

ULTRARAY
RADIATION PROTECTION

Lead Shot

Lead shot is used in Nuclear applications as a cost-effective shielding solution where traditional lead brick and shields are not able to be used. It can also provide easy, temporary shielding when poured loose or placed bagged around a radiation source.

As a foundry-direct supplier, we provide unrivalled quantity, quality and speed with just the right amount of know-how when you need it.

Lead Wool Snakes

Lead shot is used in Nuclear applications as a cost-effective shielding solution where traditional lead brick and shields are not able to be used. It can also provide easy, temporary shielding when poured loose or placed bagged around a radiation source.

As a foundry-direct supplier, we provide unrivalled quantity, quality and speed with just the right amount of know-how when you need it.

